Glover "Russ" Russell

Dear Alumni & Friends,

I am honored to have been given the opportunity to serve as President of the Delta State Alumni Association and thank each of you for your vote of confidence. I welcome any ideas, suggestions or concerns on how the Alumni Association can better serve you.

As many of you know, the Delta State Foundation is conducting its first multi-million dollar fund raising drive. We have set a goal of raising $5,000,000 by the year 2000. I ask that you give freely of your time and money when called upon by the members of the fund raising committee.

Next time you are in Cleveland or on the Delta State campus, I invite you to drive through and observe all of the improvements and additions that have taken place. The Performing Arts Center, the finest in Mississippi, will be opening this Spring. Substantial renovations will begin shortly on Broom Hall. You will also see that major landscaping improvements have taken place since the devastating ice storm last year.

Spring graduation is May 6th and I encourage all graduates to remain active in Delta State and join the Alumni Association. I encourage all other Alumni to continue to take an active part in the Association.

Delta State's Homecoming is October 28, 1995. Mark your calendar and I hope to see you there! Go Delta!

Russ Russell
President

Cleveland, MS 38733 or fax to 601-846-4713.

Keep up the good work! Even though I am miles away in the foreign country of Utah, I am still and always proud to be a DSU graduate

Spring Heflin Youngblood, '89
Brigham City, UT

This is GREAT! I have thoroughly enjoyed the new alumni magazine. Not only does it look good, but it keeps me informed on Delta State and I love reading about my friends.

Stephen Sutton, '87
Memphis, TN

Love the new design of Delta Currents. Wish we could reorganize the alumni meeting for alumni in the Nashville area. The last get-together was canceled due to the 1994 ice storm.

George F. Mangum
Nashville, TN

I want to say that I am proud of the alumni association of Delta State and want to be a part of it. DSU gave me my start. I am Associate Professor at Jarvis Christian College. I take great pride in supporting my alma mater.
Dr. Hosea L. Franklin, 72

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI NOMINATIONS DUE

Each year at homecoming the Alumni Association presents the Outstanding Alumnus of the Year Award to a former student who has distinguished himself/herself by making significant contributions to human or institutional programs in which a situation, institution, or movement has been improved because of his/her personal participation.

The selection is made from nominees submitted by members of the Alumni Association and the final selection is made by the awards committee.

If you know of someone deserving of this honor, please send their name, address, achievements and honors to the DSU Alumni Director at Box 3104, Cleveland, MS 38733.

DOCTORS THREE

Cooper Johnson, Billy Carl Moore, and Marcello Eduardo, all have recently completed the requirements for the Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Mississippi. All three are professors in the School of Business and have been at DSU for more than nine years. Moore and Eduardo obtained their degrees in finance while Johnson's was in management.

CAMPUS GETS FACELIFT

Delta State campus is being returned to its former beauty after the great ice storm of '94. Due to the foresight of the administration and help from the Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA), major renovation is underway.

Streets on campus have been repaired or re-coated. New, brighter antique looking streets lights have been installed, and a campus wide landscaping project has been undertaken. Many of the new trees, shrubbery and ground cover are flowering. An upgraded irrigation system has been installed and complete renovation of the quadrangle has been started. The giant oak trees lining the quad have been significantly pruned and new oaks have been planted between. Many of the 5000 spring flowering bulbs donated to Delta State by Van Zyverdon Nursery of Meridian are now in full bloom as evidenced by the cover photo.

Jennifer Sartain, a DSU Senior from Water Valley, was recently selected Miss DSU 1995 and will be competing in the Miss Mississippi Pageant in July.

FROM THE DIRECTOR'S DESK

"She has a cool and easy manner and a calmness few players ever reach. She will make an able leader"

QUOTE FROM 1932 YEARBOOK

In 1973, Dr. Aubrey Lucas announced that Delta State would reinstate its women's basketball program and its coach would be Margaret Wade. Admitting that, at age 60 and following a bout with cancer, she didn't know if she would be able to handle the physical demands of the job, Wade accepted the challenge.

Six years, four state championships, three AIAW national championships and 157 wins later, "Coach" Wade retired as coach of the Lady Statesmen.

Raised in Cleveland, Wade attended Cleveland High and Delta State. She was a center-forward on Delta State women's basketball teams which won state championships in 1930 and 1931. Much to her dismay, in 1932 the college disbanded the team, stating that the sport was "too rough for young ladies."

Following graduation, Wade taught and coached at Cleveland High School for 17 years before returning to Delta State to head up its women's physical education department. It would be 14 years later that she would become coach of the Lady Statesmen.

Wade's contributions to women's basketball have been well-documented and recognized nationally with the naming of The Wade Trophy, awarded to the top women's collegiate basketball player in the nation, and induction into the National Basketball Hall of Fame in 1978.

Yes, she distinguished herself and women's basketball and helped put her school "on the map" nationally. She was a woman I remember for her competitive fire, but gentle manner; a woman who commanded your attention without having to ask for it; and a woman looked upon by her players with love and respect.

Margaret Wade died February 16, 1995 following a lengthy illness, but the legend she left behind will live forever, and yes, she was an able leader.

50 YEAR GOLDEN CIRCLE

On April 9th and 10th a group of alumni who graduated before 1945 returned to campus to celebrate the formation of the Fifty Year Golden Circle. The members were introduced at Honors Day activities, given a tour of the campus, attended the Renaissance Performance in the new performing arts building, served at the Presidents home and even attended undergraduate classes with Student Alumni members.

They were greeted by former alumni directors Dr. Kent Wyatt, and Hugh Ellis Walker. Current director Dr. Don Skelton welcomed the group on behalf of the alumni association.

"This was a blue ribbon, or shall we say, green and white ribbon occasion," expressed Vicki Fioranelli, associate alumni director. "There are approximately 550 alumni who graduated between 1928 and 1944 for whom we have good addresses. It was staggering to think that so many cared and were able to return for this event."

DELTA STATE MADE A REAL DIFFERENCE IN YOUR LIFE

The DSU Foundation launched the largest capital campaign in the University's history last fall — and the effort is helping Delta State meet expanding educational and service needs as it prepares for the 21st Century. In the 1st 24 weeks, the development program had received $ 1.3 million in total commitments. This level of support makes the development program the most successful in the University's history and sets the stage for reaching the $5 million campaign goal.

The Foundation and the University are directing their greatest efforts toward creating endowments for program enhancements and in areas that are not supported by public funds. These objectives include goals of a $2 million endowment to enhance the University's science programs, a $2 million programming endowment to support the new Performing Arts Center and a $1 million faculty professional development fund. DSU alumni and friends may also designate gifts and pledges to other programs of special interest to them.

The entire fund-raising effort took root in the generosity of DSU alum Dean Spradling, a 1954 Delta State medical technology graduate from Clarksdale. Spradling personally committed a $400,000 challenge grant in the sciences area and his leadership led Foundation and University officials to develop a broader program to reach all DSU alumni and regional businesses, corporations and foundations.

The "Campaign for Delta State: Changing Vision Into Reality" will substantially advance the Foundation and the University. The following financial projections cover a five-year pledge period, allowing alumni, corporations, foundations, and friends to make more generous financial "investments" over a multi-year time frame to expand endowment and other funds to enhance quality instruction and outreach for Delta State.

THE ENDOWMENT FOR THE SCIENCES . . . $2,000,000

Delta State University has one of Mississippi's outstanding science programs, particularly in the areas of pre-med and allied health. A commitment has been made to build a strong endowment to continue DSU's commitment to excellence and distinction in the sciences.

DSU alum Dean Spradling has already made a $400,000 challenge gift to establish The Endowment for the Sciences. Every dollar contributed for the sciences by other alumni, businesses, companies and friends will be matched by Spradling on a one to four basis up to a total of $2 million.

The endowment income will be used for instructional equipment, student scholarships and development, academic program development, and special service/research projects.

THE PERFORMING ARTS ENDOWMENT . . . $2,000,000

The new $8.5 million Performing Arts Center includes a 1,200-seat main auditorium and a separate recital hall. While the state funded the building of the center, the goals of expanding educational, cultural and entertainment programming in the facility must be met through endowment income. This fund is being established through the strong support of alumni and friends who, through contributions, are naming theater chairs and areas of the building in honor or memory of a friend or loved one.

Private funds will be used for performing arts series, cooperative programming with area schools and arts organizations, and national and international entertainers and speakers.

FACULTY PROFESSIONAL

DEVELOPMENT ENDOWMENT . . . $1,000,000

Endowment income is also needed to assist outstanding Delta State faculty members. Funds will be used to support professional development programs, for start-up grant funding or "seed money" and for service and outreach programs throughout the Delta.

TOTAL . . . $5,000,000

Delta State University receives less than 61 percent of its total budget from the state of Mississippi general revenue fund. DSU is a "state-assisted" rather than "state-supported" institution. There are no projections for new dollars from the state. Because this trend is likely to continue, the public-private partnership that currently exists must be strengthened if Delta State is going to continue quality education and student development into the 21st Century.

The first step in the program's implementation was to receive financial support within the University family, including the DSU Foundation Board, the Alumni Association Board, faculty, staff and administration. The Foundation and Alumni Association boards have committed $390,000 in gifts and pledges. Administration, faculty and staff members have made commitments totaling $71,000 in gifts and pledges.

It is important for the University "family" to be the first supporters of the development program. This includes you and your more than 20,000 fellow alumni who must demonstrate to business leaders as well as state and national foundations that you believe in your alma mater and are supporting it with both money and time.

For additional information, please contact the DSU Foundation Development Program, Alumni and Foundation House, Box 3141, Cleveland, MS 38733, 601/846-4709.

YOUR ROLE AS A DSU ALUM

Your gift or pledge as a DSU graduate is extremely important to the DSU Foundation Development Program.

If all Delta State alumni gave just $1 each day over a three- to five-year period, then each gift would range from $1,095 to $1,895. DSU's more than 20,000 alumni have the potential to make a huge impact on the Foundation's first major development program. Also, many alumni are employed at companies with matching contribution programs. Thus, if the company matches the employee gift to Delta State, the original gift can be doubled or even tripled.

The DSU Foundation and University ask you to personally contribute and enlist others to give. You also can be helpful in identifying businesses, companies and DSU friends that will support the effort.

Funds needed for the special program objectives should not be confused with annual giving. Year after year, annual giving provides unrestricted funds to supplement Delta State's operating budget. You are now being asked to make a commitment over and above what you are now contributing on an annual basis — a special gift or pledge.

Michael T. Hall, '69, of Portland, TX, is now serving as the Command Chaplain at the naval station in Ingleside, TX.

Walter M. Campbell III, '68, was recognized as Outstanding Faculty Member in the College of Business at Northeast Louisiana University by ODK in 1994.

Jeanette Snell, '60, of Booneville retired after 28 years of teaching. Thomas E. Lord, '67, of Jackson, a 26 year veteran with the Mississippi Employment Security Commission, has been named its director.

Philene P. Allen, 65, of Cleveland, was recently named the Woman of Distinction by the Alpha Sigma Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma.

Dr. Anne Gaddis Cross, '68, of Ripley, was among 77 outstanding students and faculty members from Mississippi colleges and community colleges who received special recognition from the Mississippi Legislature during the 8th annual HEADWAE program.

Johnny Parker, '68, of Foxboro MA, has been named "strength coach of the year" in the National Football League. Parker just completed his second season with the New England Patriots following nine years with the New York Giants.

1970's

Thomas W. Carson, '79, of Decatur, MS, was selected as East Central Community College's outstanding HEADWAE faculty member for the 1994-95 term.

Colonel Tom Watts, of Belgium, has been assigned to U.S. Mission to NATO and promoted to Colonel. He was the first professor of military science in 1980 at DSU.

Mark Norwood, '78, formerly of Cleveland, has accepted a position with Union Planters Bank in Jackson.

Archie James, '76, of Atlanta, is Southern Area Manager of Business Transformation and responsible for IBM's reengineering efforts in the Southeast.

Former Canton Mayor, '73, Sidney Runnels, has been named Director of Economic Development for the West Memphis, AR Chamber of Commerce.

Carolyn Manning

Carolyn Manning, a 1983 DSU graduate, is Regional Sales Manager for the Southern Region of AT&T's Consumer Sales Division. This AT&T division was the 1994 recipient of the U.S. Commerce Department's Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award, of which Carolyn was instrumental in obtaining. The Baldrige Award is Corporate America's equivalent to the Oscars and carries a great deal of clout in business circles. Manning was extremely involved in the company's quality division and was the Regional Quality Manager when application was made for the Baldrige Award. She was promoted to Regional Sales Manager, but remained involved in the quality division.

Manning's present responsibilities include: sales manager covering 14 states and overseeing more than 4,000 AT&T contracted Corporate Card accounts that generate more than $750 million in revenue and over 3 billion minutes of use to the AT&T long distance network annually.

She credits much of her success to Delta State and the management degree she received. Manning specifically points to the influence that Dr. Lawton Owens, Chairman Emeritus, Division of Management and Marketing, had on her management style. She states, "I have found practical application of Dr. Owens' principles of management to be highly effective. Additionally, I learned from him the importance of setting high expectations for those people I am responsible for; encouraging their creativity, supporting their individualism and applauding their successes. I find great satisfaction in helping people perform at an optimum level and am grateful to Dr. Owens for these simple pleasures." Manning has also done Masters of Business Administration work in Marketing at Mercer University. Manning is married with two children and resides in Atlanta.

DELTA STATE ON THE MOVE

Thomas E. Lord

Thomas Lord, a 1967 Delta State graduate, was recently appointed executive director of the Mississippi Employment Security Commission. He has served his entire career with MESC and has experience in all the major functions of the commission. "In his 26 years with the agency, Mr. Lord has worked in all three branches—employment service, unemployment insurance and business management. His all around knowledge of agency operations made him an excellent candidate for the job," said the Commission Chairman Jim Ingram.

Lord earned a B.S. in business administration with an emphasis in political science from DSU. He is rated a Certified Assessor by the Department of Labor Region IV State Employment Security Agencies Executive Development Program. Lord is one of the first Mississippians to complete the state's Certified Public Manager Program, receiving his CPM in 1993. He is a founding member of the Mississippi Society of Certified Public Managers.

Lord is a native of Greenwood and has been extremely active throughout his career in the Mississippi Chapter, International Association of Personnel in Employment Security. He was state President in 1978. Lord has also been involved in the Jaycees, United Methodist Church, and the MESC Credit Union. He is a former Boy Scout leader and was named to Outstanding Young Men of America.

Lord is married and has two daughters. They reside in Jackson.

FOOTBALL STATESMEN SELECTED TO ALL-STAR GAME

Five DSU football seniors were selected to play in the first annual National College Football All-Star Classic, played March 11, at University High Stadium in Orlando, Fla.

Jason Summers, an offensive guard from Pensacola, Fla., Jason Klimczak, a kicker from Deerfield, Ill., Corey Smith, strong safety from West Point, Miss., Michael Young, a tight end from Durant, Miss., and Erick Brady, offensive tackle from Petal, Miss., were all picked by the game's talent coordinating staff to participate.

Summers and Klimczak were second-team all-Gulf South Conference picks this season, while Corey Smith was a third-team all-American and 1993 all-GSC selection.

The game marks the first time top college seniors from all three major college football divisions have showcased their talents on the same field.

Corey Sledge, a junior from Aberdeen, slams a home run against division II powerhouse, Central Oklahoma.

STATESMEN WIN GSC-WEST TITLE

The Delta State men's basketball team won the Gulf South Conference West Division regular season championship, and gave the Statesmen a berth in the GSC Tournament in Florence, Ala.

The road to the title was no easy one for ninth-year head coach Steve Rives, as the club started the year with a 1-3 record. But the club turned things around in late December, hitting its stride with a championship in the Missouri Southern Tournament, Dec. 29-30, in Joplin, MO. In the MSSC event, DSU junior Otis Lawson earned MVP honors, while teammate Kris Hardin, also a junior, was named to the all-tournament team. Lawson had 21 points and 7 rebounds in the team's semifinal win over SIU-Edwardsville, before Hardin turned it on in the finals with 24 points and 12 rebounds.

After losing their GSC opener to West Georgia on Jan. 5, the club reeled off five straight wins in January, before suffering road losses at Henderson State and Central Arkansas. The Statesmen would avenge those losses and go on to win their next six, including a satisfying 86-74 win at Mississippi College on Feb. 14.

The club was 10-1 in Sillers Coliseum this winter, and defeated Valdosta State in the first round of the GSC Tournament.

DSU ALUMNI HONORED BY MAC

The Mississippi Association of Coaches (MAC) announced that Marion Kelley ('55) of Weir and Charles Peets ('56) of Vicksburg have been selected for induction into the MAC Hall of Fame. Also inducted will be Owen Makamson of Avon, whose son was an outstanding pitcher with the Statesman baseball program. The induction ceremonies, to occur in conjunction with the MAC Clinic this summer in Jackson, will honor Kelley, Peets and Makamson for their contributions to high school athletics during their teaching and coaching careers.

The MAC also announced that several DSU alumni have been named as coaches for post-season All-Star football contests. Homer "Cotton" Robertson ('57), a DSU Hall of Fame inductee, has been selected as the head coach of the 1995 Mississippi squad for the annual Mississippi/Alabama football game. Assisting Robertson will be Jerry Barrett ('73) of Senatobia, Paul Downs ('68) of Cleveland, and Neil Hitchcock ('75) of Grenada. Selected as head coach of the South squad for the 1995 Bernard Blackwell All-Star football game is David Bradberry ('74) of Clinton.

'90 CLASS NOTE

Class Notes on Alumni who graduated in the 90's will be included in the next issue of Delta Currents in August.

DELTA STATE-VALLEY MERGER PROPOSAL APPARENTLY DEAD

A proposal to merge Delta State University and Mississippi Valley State University, offered as part of the Ayers desegregation case remedy, appears to be dead.

The Board of Trustees, State Institutions of Higher Learning -- which suggested the merger possibility -- is "now looking beyond that," according to Dr. Ray Cleere, commissioner of higher education. Instead, the Board has appointed a three-member committee to study alternatives to merger.

Cleere, in an interview with The Bolivar Commercial, said there is no enthusiasm on the Board for pursuing the merger proposal. Instead, the Committee will suggest alternatives to merger as a means of increasing white enrollment at MVSU. MVSU is 99.6% black while DSU is 72% white. In his opinion, handed down March 7, Judge Neal Biggers said the Board had not shown that it was practical or educationally sound to merge the two schools. Judge Biggers was complimentary in several instances of Delta State's management and operation.

The Alumni Association, through Cleveland attorney Lindsey C. Meador, filed an amicus curiae brief that emphasized the absence of any data to support a conclusion that the mergers would contribute to further desegregation in the Delta. Dr. Kent Wyatt offered similar testimony at the trial, and his testimony was referenced several times in the judge's decision. Judge Biggers gave the state until July 1, 1996, to carry out his order.

WRITERS CAPTURE AWARDS

Each year the International Honor Society in Literature, Lambda Iota Tau, produces a magazine in which it publishes "some of the best creative writing by its members." This year four of the ten published writers are from Delta State. Dr. William Spencer, faculty advisor to the LIT says, "The students should be very proud of themselves. They deserve the honor." Winners include: Helen Armstrong, Jim Garrett, Donna Gordon, and Sissy Pierce.

MASTER OF NURSING

Dr. Barbara Powell reported that in January, 1995, fourteen full time students and three part-time students were admitted to the newly established graduate program in nursing. The two majors are: family nurse practitioner and adult health nurse educator. The program requires twelve months of full time study. DSU alumni enrolled are: Anne Afeman Norwood, '91; Nkeba Stringer, Sherry Woodard, '93; Pattie Hemphill, '83; Gwen Chew, '88; Lisa Julius, '88; and George Murphy, '94.

The next class will be admitted in the fall of '95. Application deadline is June 1. For more information call 601-846-4268 or write Box 3343, Cleveland, MS 38733.
